(I rounded it up because there were a lot of troublesome matters yesterday.)

Recently, it's a little bit uncomfortable for you to see too many using below words "personal view" of "this is a completely personal view."

One night, my mom called my beloved daughter and said, "Don't fall in love with a man. Marry a man whom you no falling in love. Marry a man who is easy to manipulate. That makes me happy. You can see me?" That was the beginning. The story of a strange mother, a strange child, and a totally naive father started all over Japan.

As a result, half of Japan's hidden nations are now depression reserves. Then, combining with the hidden life in this corona and the newly added elements of unemployment and lost exchange life, I imagine the expansion and deepening of this mentally ill patient more than the economic problems after the coronary disaster. Will be done. Especially in Japan. (It is not a story of foreign countries. I do not know the actual situation of foreign countries. I want to forgive you .)

Aside from that, there is the above-mentioned groundwork. Especially in Japan, there will probably be a super storm. I think many people will be blown away by it. However, no new sprouts will emerge unless this is exceeded. Believing that, I would like to say that it will be okay for each of us to survive the storm of the next few years. Today, it`ll be pretty, nice ,and flashy.

There were various things yesterday. At my house.
