(Thank you for your concern)

Thank you to several readers for expressing their sincere appreciation to the readers, saying "You haven't written the article for a while, what happened? Is it okay?" It is the extreme of that I would like to take this opportunity to give a brief explanation, including to those people. As I said in the previous announcement (maybe you no notice it because it was a small article), I am currently focusing on the work of publishing electronic books. The reason is that the current sales of the food and beverage business will not be able to continue as a business sooner or later. I was urgently required to switch from the current one-foot batting method to the two-foot batting method. As the first of these, in a modified version of my own book "Reading when I think my life is over" published in 2015, I made a considerable modification, so the title is (new book) "Life. After thinking "I'm done", I am proceeding with preparations for publication under the title (tentative title). Therefore, I am worried because I could not update the article. The e-books listed above are scheduled to be released in kindle by Amazon in early June.

The list price is 100 yen (preliminary price) for one subscription right. We would like to inform you of the time of publication, but we would like to thank all of you for enjoying this section.
