(utokuyikki night story The reason why we set up a shop in this area)

The existing thing has begun to shake a lot in the coronary storm. Even large corporations may not be able to survive where their financial base is weak. Even in the case of nations, countries with weak financial bases have the possibility of becoming dead. At the individual level, even in the world where lawyers, tax accountants, and certified public accountants are no longer able to eat, even that doctor, who has maintained an absolute position as a profession that is "out of the ordinary", is afraid of corona infection. Due to the drastic decrease in the number of patients who come to our hospital, there is a possibility that the hospital will be closed and closed regardless of whether it is a large hospital or an individual practitioner.

To say these phenomena in a bold and very simple way, isn't it that "all titles (attributes of the person in society) have begun to fall off"? National civil service title. The title of being a citizen of a prime nation. The title is an employee of a global giant. The names of lawyers, tax accountants, doctors, etc. suddenly faded, and I began to feel uncertain, like a piece of paper. Similarly, as a material, it is just a paper, and even a wad of banknotes (banknotes) that complies with the credibility of the issuer called the nation cannot be considered absolute if the issuer's existence is in jeopardy in front of the corona. It may be.

In short, it may be that the trust and value that humans have believed and built up until now, and the human society itself, which is the accumulation of them, have begun to fluctuate. If this is the case, it is necessary to take into account the possibility of entering a completely different and great transitional period beyond the Great Depression of 1929, rather than the Lehman shock. If this is the case, it is predicted that the coronal disaster this time will no longer be meaningful simply by "just an economic measure." What will remain when the title and money are stripped off from the working people of today, what is required of the individual who is the minimum component of society, or what can cause the individual to survive and survive?

In a nutshell, "What do you rely on?" "Do you have hope by relying on it?" Unfortunately, I do not have the answer in this time. However, the only thing I am vaguely thinking about is the "freshwater portion of biological origin (apple to apple)

I feel that there is a hint in "human (relationship)". In addition, I would like to say that when we retire, we no longer have the title, and the income of our retirees has dropped sharply. What do we still have? If you say more, "Can you shine brightly?"

I feel like that is being asked. For to find out the answer, it seems to be holding our own this store without leaving even though we continue to make a big deficit in a corner of this complex where many pensioners are aging. I am also aging in it.
