(Uto-Q blog "Uncountable and countable numbers as a guide for our lives")

The problem I clearly get in this pandemic is not a necessity of telework, also not internal resources and not also feeling of New-Normal starting.

What is the problem I clearly got?

Uncountable and Countable numbers as a guide for us, we have.

Uncountable ones as a guide are economic indicators and stock prices. It does not show skin sensation.

In addition, salaries, etc.

For example, Young family bought a condominium with a large loan near the station. After that, however, a situation arises where it is not clear whether bonuses are paid or not, even if salaries are paid or not. Such a situation suddenly happens without pre-announcement.

Then what kind of numbers do we count?

Natural science data such as temperature and pressure.

Demographic statistics such as births and deaths

And the number of times such as date and time.

To summarize the above in a simple way, the number that the uncountable is "speculation".

The number of "facts" can count on you.

At least, I am too much enough of being "deliberately" overwhelmed. In these circumstances, I feel it is better to focus on "factual numbers(statistics)".

Because You can watch it calmly without drowning.
