(above kanji of hito)

(イ =ninben=hito-hen`s kanji samples)

On the previous article, we showed the guidance and outline of Kanji 7 fields.

Then from today, let`s start to check each field of Kanji.

At the first, Hen(=へん=篇)located the left side of Kanji it self

In the “hen” field, so many different “hen” types(items) It`s very a lot of.

Then I`ll show you main items only to avoid confusing.

1.”イ” (Ninben=hito-hen=relevant to human`s matter)

Before starting lecture, will give sub-info to you.

“イ”`s origin is “人”(hito=human)

The shape of “人” shows humans support to each other. Left side (ノ)of this kanji”人” is one human. Right side(㇏)is the other. Left side human and Right side human support to each other, the shape.

Ex)●住む (sumu=to live in) right part of this kanji”主”means “owner”.

Then this kanji`s main message is “human is owner=to live in” the same.

●働く (hataraku=to work)right part of this kanji”動”means “move or move something”.

Then this kanji`s main message is ”human moves or moves their hands and body=to work, no move or no move them, only by mouth moving is not to work” the same.

●仲(naka=friendship nearly equal) right part of this kanji”中”means “center or inside”

Then this kanji`s main message is “friendship is main center” or “human relations inside the circle”.

●侍=サムライ (samurai=ancient Japanese knight)right part of this kanji“寺”means “Buddhism style Temple”

Because in the ancient era, samurai belonged to temples as a bodyguards hired by temples.

↑ (ninben)kanji, many, many others we have. But it`s too much enough overworks for you, I guess.

Then today`s lecture I`ll stop here.

On the next lecture, will show you "木"(kihen=relevant to tree or wood)

Thank you.
